Hundreds Protest Drain Plan

Several hundred people—largest audience in recent years—swarmed into the Atherton Town Hall last Monday evening to oppose the town's proposed drainage district.

The five council members, surprised by the response to postcards sent to all residents within the proposed drainage district, were unprepared to handle the crowd and Mayor Henry Kuechler immediately announced that the hearing would be carried over so that those who could not express their opinion then would have the opportunity at a later date.

A large percentage of the crowd was from the unincorporated areas which would be included in the district, though their properties generally were on high ground but in the drainage basin of the Atherton canal.

Principle objections to the proposed district were:

1. Those who have no drainage or flood problem should not be included;

2. The unincorporated areas would be taxed without representation, and,

3. Most people wanted more information before any definite steps were taken.

The boundaries of the proposed district run roughly along Sand Hill road to Walsh road, then off through the fields around the Bear Gulch reservoir to Ridgeview drive. From Ridgeview it runs to Atherton avenue, down Atherton to Edwards and over to Isabella avenue. It approaches El Camino Real from Isabella, along El Camino to Ashfield and then down to Greenoaks and then up Oak Grove. Via Oak Grove it hits El Camino again and then over to Valparaiso avenue. The line extends up Valparaiso to a point opposite where Santa Cruz heads southwest and then runs along Santa Cruz until it connects with Sand Hill again. No portion of Menlo Park is included in the proposed district.

Objections to inclusion in the district because certain areas had no drainage problem were voiced by property owners who either had solved any drainage problem they may have had, those whose property is on the top of hills and thus not affected by run-off, and those who do have a drainage problem but are convinced that the proposed improvements wouldn't help them.

TRADITIONAL CRY

Taxation without representation was argued against the district by those who live in unincorporated areas of the county. Referring to many historical situations these opponents pointed out that once the district is formed, they could be assessed for maintenance or for capital improvements by the Atherton Town Council whom they have no voice in electing. Atherton Town Council as the initiating body for the district would become the board of trustees.

The only elected representatives which these unincorporated areas have are on the Board of Supervisors. When the plan was originally proposed by Atherton, they presented their resolution to the Board who gave the Town full jurisdiction in forming the district, pointing out in their reply that they were well aware of the necessity for such a district.

Woodside, the third area to be included in the district, gave consent to Atherton some months ago when the study was first started. The only Woodside property to be included belongs to the California Water Service.

The third objection to the plan was voiced by property owners in all areas of the district regardless of whether their property was on top of a hill or near the bottom of the basin. For many, the first they heard of the proposal was the postcard sent out by the council announcing this open hearing.

At the beginning of the meeting, City Engineer Edwin Smith read the report which he wrote after a study by several interested citizens and engineers in 1955 and 1956, after floods which caused considerable damage in this area.

The report stated that the existing system, the Atherton drainage canal and its laterals, provides the bare minimum in drainage and in a short while will be woefully inadequate.

The report recommends that the canal be straightened, enlarged and covered and that a system of storm sewers be built to carry off water from areas which presently only have a natural drainage system.

The report suggested that a general obligation bond of $900,000 would be the best way to handle this program financially. The bond would run 15 to 18 cents on each $100 of assessed property value to be carired over a period of 30 years. As the area within the district is developed the new property owners would assume their proportionate share of the assessment.

Bonde 'Wavering':

Underpass Site Impasse Shaken

Councilman Ira Bonde Tuesday night reported that he was wavering in his partiality for the Middle avenue underpass site, but "won't have made up my mind until Tuesday evening."

At a council study session Bonde threw these points out to his fellow councilmen, "not for discussion, but for consideration:"

1. If the Willow road site is selected, what assurance does the city have that the state won't take it over, and if they do will they reimburse the city its expenditure to date and will they take over remaining indebtedness?

2. Very serious thought should be given to how the recreation facilities in Burgess park can be replaced if the Middle avenue site it chosen. And if Burgess drive cannot be extended (as Middle avenue) due to land recently acquired by the United States Geological Survey what will be the benefit of an underpass under Middle avenue.

Previously, it had been indicated the council was evenly split as to preferences: Councilmen Guy Plaisted and Vaile Andrus favored a grade separation at Willow road; Mayor William Lawson and Bonde have been staunch supporters of the Middle avenue plan.

Councilman Michael L. Belangie has indicated he would favor whichever site met with the approval of the majority of council members, but said he would vote for neither "at the expense of a bad split on the council."

Petition Seeks To Bar Middle Underpass Site

A petition urging the city council to adopt the Willow road underpass route, rather than one which would go under the SP tracks opposite the end of Middle avenue, was being circulated in west Menlo Park this week.

Roy Jerome, 1580 Middle avenue, one of the originators of the petition, said signers feel they do not want Middle avenue to become "any more of a major east-west artery than it is already."

He declared that many trucks serving the Alameda shopping center already use Middle avenue and Olive street as an alternate route, so they won't have to fight traffic through the Santa Cruz avenue business district.

The petition sets forth that:

"Total cost of the proposed Middle avenue underpass will greatly exceed the total cost of the proposed Willow road underpass and we are unwilling to assume such additional cost;

"The proposed Middle avenue underpass will cut through and destroy the effective use of the recreation area of Burgess Park, which is irreplacable;

"(It) will channel traffic on Middle avenue and adjacent streets, and will cause an infiltration of traffic through residential streets in Linfield Oaks, resulting in safety hazards and impairment of residential property values.

"(It) is substandard with an eight per cent grade . . .

"There is considerable doubt as to whether a satisfactory right-of-way can be obtained between the proposed Middle avenue underpass and Middlefield road."

The petition is expected to be completed in time to be submitted to the city council at next week's meeting. Councilmen have indicated they will discuss underpass routes, and possibly reach osme decision, at that time.

Woodland Area Residents Ask Annexation

Possibility of annexation of Woodland Gardens to Menlo Park was considered at the city council's Tuesday evening study session.

Five residents of the area appearing before the council, expressed their desire that the area be annexed. They said they spoke for a large number of residents whom they had contacted and found to be in favor of the move.

Myron Alexander of 485 Oak court in the presently unincorporated area pointed out to the council that plans for annexation were started several years ago, but actual request had been delayed until this time due to the reluctance of some old time residents in that area.

Mayor William R. Lawson expressed agreement to the proposal saying that "The sooner we can get control of them (fringe areas), the better we'll be able to handle their problems."

He added, "We are sympathetic to your proposal and would like to consider it with the over all problem in that area." Continuing that if annexation of a larger area were going to be the eventual result, it would be better to take care of it all at once.

Lang 5th To Enter City Race

James T. Lang, 337 Linfield place, last week was identified as the "dark horse" candidate in the Menlo Park city council race, as he filed a candidate's petition last Thursday morning, a short time before the noon deadline.

He is the fifth candidate in the race: incumbents Ira Bonde, Michael L. Belangie and Guy Plaisted, as well as challenger Harry Ryberg, had already filed.

Although identified as a Linfield Oaks resident who, at last year's hearings on the streets and highways section of the city's master plan, favored the Willow road underpass route, Lang failed to mention it in an opening campaign statement issued to the Recorder this week.

Said Lang's statement:

"During the coming months the city council is going to have to take decisive action on a number of critical issues. It has become painfully apparent that these problems are not going to be solved by councilmen who are indecisive uninformed or dilatory. I am a candidate . . . because I am convinced that a fresh and vigorous approach to these issues is necessary.

"I believe Menlo Park citizens are entitled to councilmen who are dedicated to solutions, not delays; who are capable of informed decisions on all available facts, not just personal hunches; who can apply modern business management thinking to the city's problems, not a traditional business-as-usual attitude.

"In taking up such issues as the SP underpass, trash disposal, downtown parking, recreation, city center financing and use of sales tax revenue." Lang's statement continued, "I pledge progress, not postponement; action, not inaction."

EXECUTIVE

Lang is presently employed by Richfield Oil Co. in San Francisco, in marketing and public relations assignments. Until recently, he had supervision of the oil company's "Success Story" television series.

He has been active in Laurel and Encinal school PTA's, a worker for the March of Dimes, active in Red Cross activities and United Crusade drives both here and in San Francisco.

EXHIBITION CAGE BOUTS HELD TONIGHT

The Menlo Park Recreation department's seventh and eighth grade basketball program concludes tonight with the annual "exhibition" night of games at Burgess gymnasium.

REASON THE DUMP WAS CLOSED

THE COUNTY DUMP at the east end of Bay road had its last chance to be a smog producer last week, before being closed forever. In its last effort, it did well. Last Friday, it produced the cloud shown above, which was photographed from downtown Menlo Park, some 3¼ miles away.

Incinerator Passes First Test with Flying Colors

South San Mateo County Garbage Disposal District's new incinerator passed its first tests last week with flying colors — even meeting the requirements of the public with little delay.

The incinerator, opposite the east end of Marsh road, was the object of considerable patronage Sunday, as residents of the entire south county area converged after a day when there were no municipal or county dumps operating anywhere else in the area, except at Redwood City.

Even with a two-day backlog of customers to take care of in one, observers said, the incinerator appeared to be able to handle all garbage dumped. A line of 15 or 20 autos was the longest seen, according to one observer.

James Price, chairman of the garbage disposal district's board of trustees, said the capacity of the device confirms findings of an earlier test. In the early test, eight loads of wet garbage, meaning each included 30 per cent moisture, were consumed in 40 minutes. Each load consisted of 22 yards.

Parish Building Drive On

A parishwide program for the building of a new $350,000 church gets underway this coming week in St. Raymond's parish, Menlo Park.

Under the leadership of Monsignor Edwin J. Kennedy, pastor, a committee of 220 laymen has been formed and now is completing training for a fund-raising visitation to all homes in the parish.

Meanwhile, a hostess committee of some 85 women is busy with personal invitations to all adults of the parish to attend a unity dinner to be held at the Palo Alto Elks club, Wednesday, Feb. 26 starting at 7 p.m.

Co-chairmen for the dinner, Miss Ruth Donohoe and Mrs. S. P. Larkin predict a gathering of some 800 persons.

Monsignor Kennedy calls attention that the dinner itself is not a fund-raising affair in any sense. Admission is free and invitational to all adults of St. Raymond's.

As planned, if all goes well, the new church will be erected within the coming year. Monsignor Kennedy says he is hopeful that the church will be ready by next Easter. Preliminary drawings of the church now are being prepared by Henry V. Chescoe, architect who designed St. Raymond's school.

LOCATION

To be located facing Santa Cruz avenue, the new church is planned to seat over 900 persons. According to Monsignor Kennedy, the emphasis sought is for a liturgical church in which the people will be grouped around the altar in a nave and two transepts.

The elevation shows a 14 foot wall height with a roof rising steeply to the 35 foot maximum permitted in Menlo Park. At the rear center of the church, above the altar, will be an open-work tower designed to permit daylight to enter and illuminate the altar.

An unusual feature of the church is the location of its baptistry. This will be centered on an axis with the altar and between the doors at the main entrance.

In the campaign for funds, home visitations do not start until Saturday, March 1. According to campaign leaders the every-family canvass should be 80 per cent completed by the next evening.

Organization for the church effort commenced within the parish in the middle of January, Monsignor Kennedy noted. At that time he named an executive council of 25 men of the parish to head up the sections of the large organization needed.

Included in the 25 yere:

James A. Bacigalupi, Lawrence J. Costa, Frank W. Deming, John F. Downey Jr., John H. Ellison, Remo Ferrari, John J. Fischer, Armando Flocchini ,Roy A. Folger, R. Campbell Fox, Harvey J. Franklin and James B. Gaffney III.

Also, Elmer P. Gavello, Frank S. Jordan, Frank A. Laney, Lawrence B. McGuire, Daniel J. Meagher, Harry B. Morey, John B. Morey, Joseph D. Muller, John F. Rice, Eugene W. Ritter, Paul Robbiano, Thomas R. Shellworth and Dr. Frank C. Winter.

Henry Bostwick To Speak at Chamber Lunch

Henry Bostwick Jr. of the San Mateo County Development Association Monday will address the membership of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce on a survey of area development needs.

Scene of his talk will be the regular monthly members in gathering of the C of C, at Ranch Oaks.

"The topic of what direction future development of Menlo Park and the peninsula area as a whole should take is of sufficient importance to justify opening the meeting to guests as well as members," according to Jack Flynn, secretary-manager of the Chamber.

Flynn reported that Bostwick is currently in Washington, representing the county as an "example area," at a meeting of state planning and development officials being sponsored by the Department of Commerce.

Bostwick is executive vice president and general manager of the county organization.

He is active in several area planning, Chamber of Commerce and development groups.

Change Sounght In City Food Law

An amendment to a city ordinance requiring the inspection of all food dispensing devices may be proposed to the Menlo Park city council in the near future.

The council recently received a letter from O. S. Preuss who owns a pharmacy at 809 Santa Cruz avenue objecting to a $5 annual fee for a sanitary inspection of food which was sold in wrappers or cans, the food never being touched by human hands in the store.

The council agreed that the ordinance should be amended to exclude such establishments if that were the case, however, they asked for a more thorough report on the matter before taking action.

State's Approval Asked:

Central School Subdivision, Sale Sought by District Trustees

Central school's grounds—owned by the public since the early 1880's and site of the town's only educational plant for more than 50 years—may soon be on the market.

Menlo Park School District trustees this week asked the state allocations board for permission to cut the property into three parcels, two of which may be sold to satisfy requirements of a state emergency loan of 1952 and to provide money for building a new central administration unit on the third parcel.

The resolution to the state allocations board was made on the basis of an appraisal report submitted by David Ingram.

He said value of the land could be developed if the frontage on El Camino Real occupied by the school itself were put on the market as a single two-acre parcel extending to the railroad tracks.

An extension of Merrill street to Glenwood avenue should also be provided for, he said; this would give the plot access to two streets the parcel could then be cut up for commercial and industrial use for rental units, or used in its entirety for a motel.

Ingram reported that land facing El Camino Real, between San Mateo and San Jose, has been developed more for apartments and motels, in recent years, than for other uses.

He said the 85 feet of El Camino frontage occupied by the Central school auditorium should be retained by the district for a while when it is sold, provisions could be made for its addition to the previous development, or for an access to Glenwood avenue.

RETAIN ACREAGE

He said the school district should retain the acreage at Glenwood avenue and the extension of Merrill street called for in the city's master plan; it would have sufficient space even if an underpass is eventually developed by the city at Glenwood avenue and the railroad tracks.

Ingram said he thought owners of property between Derry lane and Glenwood avenue could be convinced improvement of Merrill street would enhance property values.

The present Central school was built in 1913, after an earlier building burned down.

It was used as a school until 1952; since then, it has served as the school's administrative offices.

The adjacent auditorium was constructed in 1928.

Neither building satisfies requirements of the state's earthquake code.

Middlefield Drain Changes Face Hearing Tuesday

City council of Menlo Park will hold an open hearing on the amendments to the Middlefield road drainage project on Tuesday, Feb. 25, at 8 p.m.

Modifications to the original plan include two catch basins and a 40 foot 10 inch concrete pipe to provide for drainage on a low point on the easterly side of Laurel street and acquisition of a storm drain on Middlefield road from Linfield to a point 482 feet northwest of Linfield drive, and revision of engineering estimates from $66,000 to $65,700.

The modifications would reimburse Stanford Research Institute for their expenditure for improvements in turn for which they will carry their full share of assessment for use of the new drainage facilities.

Hubbard Sick

Leroy Hubbard, chief of the Atherton police department, was reported better yesterday after a week-long illness which kept him in the Palo Alto hospital over the weekend.

Hubbard was said to be suffering from an attack of kidney stones, but to be regaining his health rapidly at his home in Atherton.

He is expected to return to work within the next few days.

School Trustees To Discuss Hike In Tax Ceiling

Possible need for a proposal which would raise the Menlo Park Elementary School District's permissive tax rate maximum from its present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation will be discussed at a special meeting of the district's trustees next Thursday night.

At that time, District Business Manager John C. Richert will present a projected budget for the 1958-59 school year; recommendations for raises in teachers salaries are also to be discussed. The session is to get underway at 7:30 p.m. at Central school.

The proposed budget would have been discussed Tuesday night, but trustees deferred consideration since two of the trustees were out of town and because of length of the agenda.

Mrs. Becker Back

Mrs. Margaret A. Becker, Menlo Park's city clerk for the past years, was back on the job this week. She had been hospitalized two months ago after a mild heart attack.

Mrs. Becker went to work Monday; her first assignment was consolidating general election precincts for the city's municipal election to be held April 8.

Local Students Attend Capitol Meet

On Saturday, five peninsula teen-agers, representing the Sequoia YMCA, returned from the 10th annual YMCA Model Legislature, Youth and Government convention, in Sacramento, tired, their bill not a law, but happy. They were Joan Harrington, Leilani Harshbarger of Menlo-Atherton High School and Gaye Odle, Joan Nobs and Kathy Neff.

Their bill, setting a state curfew from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m., was passed in both the committee and the Assembly. However, due to a lack of time it was unable to be debated in the Senate or signed by the Youth Governor.

Thursday morning, a joint convention of both houses, held in the assembly chambers, was addressed by Governor Goodwin J. Knight. He said that the experience was a "unique one," and that, because of it, "we should all be better citizens."

In the afternoon delegates attended legislature committee meetings which were followed by a legislator's banquet which the delegates were welcomed to Sacramento.

Both the assembly and the senate debated bills all day Friday and ended the day by attending the governor's banquet and ball.

Saturday the closing sessions of the Model Lesislature were held.

Closing joint convention was held in the assembly chambers on Saturday afternoon.

ALLEN R. MOLTZEN proudly displays the Ravenswood Public Schools Citizen of the Year award presented to him by Mrs. Edward Thoits last Thursday during the Ravenswood City School District Citizens' Committee meeting. Moltzen, an attorney, who lives at 124 Hedge road in Menlo Park with his wife Margaret and four boys, Allen, Robert, Richard and David, was selected for this honor for his service to school children.

Citizen of the Year

Although it was a "secret" to the last minute, it was no surprise to those who worked with Allen Moltzen during the past year, that he was chosen "Citizen of the Year" by the Ravenswood City School District Citizens' Committee for its annual award.

Moltzen has been active in community affairs for the past several years, with accent on service to youth. He is president of the Suburban Park association, institutional representative for Boy Scout and Cub Scout pack 204 and is an honorary life member of the James Flood PTA.

For the past three years he has been active in the Citizens' Committee, serving as its chairman last year.

During the year he participated in the committee's biggest project, the report card study, and prepared a report which won for the RCSDCC the western regional award of the B.V.D. company and a trip for him to New York City

He is a graduate of Stanford University and Harvard Law School.

For his services Mrs. Edward Thoits, chairman, Mrs. Arthur Krogh and Mrs. Martin Packard chose Moltzen for this honor. Mrs. Thoits made the presentation Thursday night.

Legion Tells Plans For Distributing Flags to Merchants

Menlo Adobe Post 828 of the American Legion has plans to provide the merchants of Menlo Park with American flags for display during eight or nine special holidays throughout the year.

In a letter to the Menlo Park city council, Post Commander William J. Cosey asked the council for their approval of the program.

The program the Legion proposes would rent the flags to the merchants for five years, the Legion placing them in the holders in front of the stores in the morning of prescribed days of display and removing them at night. The city would drill the holes in the sidewalk, according to Assistant City Manager John R. Johnson.

The Legion letter stated that the program would go into effect within five or six weeks after approval is granted.

The council referred the matter to City Attorney James O'Keefe for his consideration and recommendation.

Firemen:

HELP HELPFUL

Menlo Park Fire District firemen like helpful people.

They like to help helpful people.

Thus their usual lecture to a smoker-in-bed was milder, early Saturday, than such lectures usually are.

The smoker-in-bed was an Arrowhead lane housewife, who shortly after 2 a.m. noted that ashes had dropped from a cigaret she had been smoking, had ignited the mattress on her bed.

She got up, doused the fire with some water, and opened doors and windows to let the smoke out.

The smoke didn't go! she called the firemen.

The smoke-eaters arrived and found that, in the depths of the mattress there was still more smouldering material. They soaked the mattress more thoroughly, delivered their lecture, and departed into the night.

MP Expert Shows Hi Fi Equipment

The value of high fidelity and stereophonic sound equipment in the treatment of mentally disturbed patients was considered by conferees attending the Pacific Northwest Music Therapy meetings recently at the Mendocino State Hospital.

John McIntyre, representing High Fidelity Unlimited in Menlo Park, demonstrated the Ampex stereophonic system as part of the session, "Some Interesting Things With Sound." Following the demonstration the group, comprised of professional music workers from psychiatric hospitals and clinics as well as children's specialized schools of all types, discussed the application of stereophonics to their field.

School Trustees Study Portable Classroom Idea

Menlo Park School District trustees this week were still seeking space for an estimated four-class overload which they'll have when school opens next fall.

They called on Superintendent Dr. Mel Holmfeld to give them more information on:

1. Whether portable classrooms, which would become permanent on a new site but which could be erected before school opens next fall, would be legal in Menlo Park or Atherton;

2. What the Menlo Park Presbyterian church would charge for renting classrooms to the district next year;

3. Whether double sessions were advisable;

4. What problems were encountered, and what efficiency achieved, if classes were to be raised to a maximum size of 50 and teachers were provided with aides.

They also asked for information on the cost of temporary metal classrooms which are on the market.

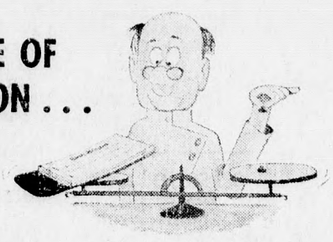

Trustees duly noted a letter from Mayor Henry N. Keuchler Jr. of Atherton, in which he expressed the informal opinion that the temporary classrooms would be legal in the town, but added that, if they were to be made temporary, their location on sites would be subject of a limited use permit.

Homfeld reported that the Menlo Park planning commission has not yet responded to a similar query. He said the district attorney's office would be quizzed as to the legality of such buildings, also.

The superintendent also reported that he had requested rental figures from the Presbyterian church, which has a 14-classroom Sunday school building, but said the request must be reviewed by several committees at the church.

Three Scouts of Menlo Park's Troop 139, sponsored by St. Raymond's church, were among five from all of San Mateo county who received the Ad Altare Dei award at impressive ceremonies last Sunday at St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco.

The Menlo Park Scouts so honored this year were: James E. Camp, Paul White, and Robert E. Carey, Jr.

The award, one of several available to Scouts of various religious affiliations, is conferred annually upon Catholic Boy Scouts and Explorers who have satisfied exacting requirements in the service of their churches and their communities, and whose habitual conduct especially exemplifies right moral principles as expressed in the Scout Oath and the Scout Law.

The distinction was bestowed by Auxiliary Bishop Hugh A. Donohoe, Vicar General of the San Francisco Archdiocese, before a congregation of more than two thousand Scouts, representing 13 Bay area counties. The ceremonies followed a Scout parade up Van Ness avenue from the City Hall to the cathedral .

Menlo-Atherton Students Carry Heavy Science, Mathematics Loads

Aware of national and local interest in increased mathematics and science training for students, Menlo-Atherton High School has compiled figures which give a clear picture of the work its students are doing in these fields.

Robert Finley, registrar, stated that all freshmen boys attending the school take a general science course either during their first high school year or during a summer session just prior to the first year.

Biology and chemistry classes are open to boys and girls from the sophomore year on. Currently, 470 students are enrolled in biology and 227 in the chemistry classes, Finley reported. The combined biology and chemistry classes, composed predominantly of sophomore and junior students, account for approximately 52 per cent of the entire sophomore and junior classes.

Physics and physiology courses are available for seniors and a few juniors who have successfully completed lower level math and science courses. Students taking physics number 59. 123 are studying psysiology. The combined 182 students, for the most part seniors, represent over 40 per cent of this year's senior class.

The mathematics department requires all graduating students to show at least one year of successfully completed mathematics on their transcripts. This year, 1200 students, or 48 per cent of the student body are taking algebra, geometry, or advanced math courses. Other students either are enrolled in general math courses or they have already finished the required year of math.

OTHER COURSES

First year algebra classes account for 611 students at the present time. First year geometry is occupying 361 others.

Math III, which takes up the second year of algebra, has 115 students enrolled. Math IV, primarily an advanced, senior course, is attended by 56 upperclassmen. This course includes trigonometry, solid geometry, and introductory work in alalytical geometry and differential calculus.

A significant footnote here is the fact that the majority of the 56 students in Math IV are also taking physics, and of the 56, seven are among the top students in the United States who recently won 1958 National Merit Scholarships.

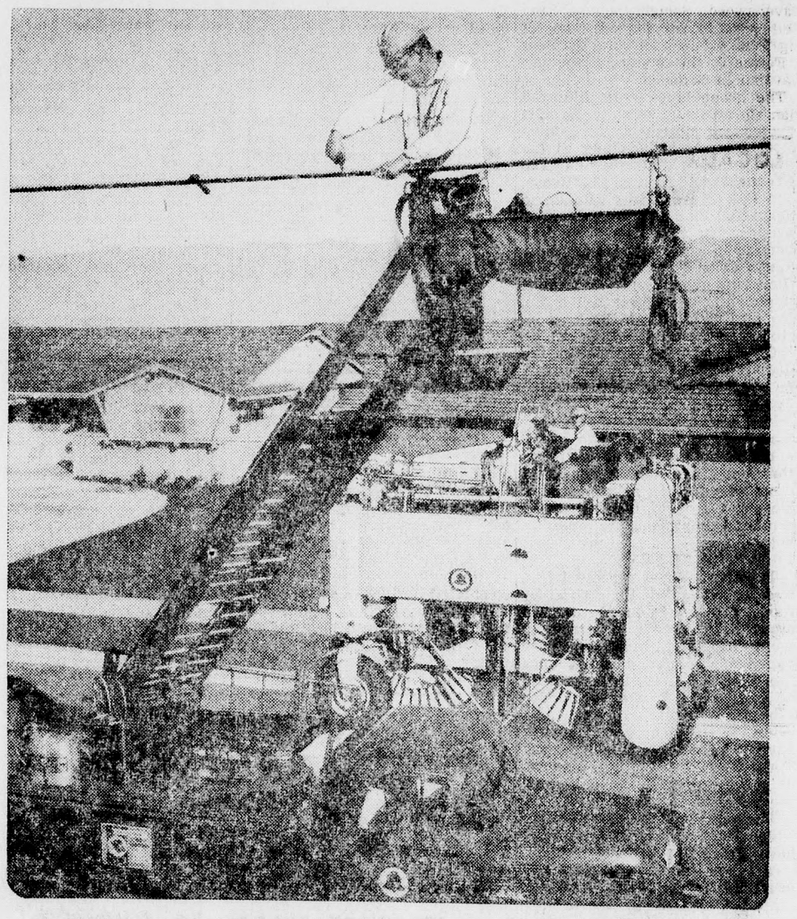

In addition to the above courses, there is an accelerated second-year algebra course for sophomores and some juniors who have done outstanding work in the beginning year of algebra. Fifty-seven students qualified for the class this year.

Behind your phone calls roll a host of trucks. Special telephone trucks. Their job: To save phone men valuable working hours as they expand and improve your service. In the top picture are two of the dozens of different kinds of phone trucks you might see any day in your town. A ladder truck, front, easily helps a phone man like Jim O'Neill put the finishing touches on a new overhead cable. Or the huge straddle truck behind it helps us shift heavy cable reels as if they were doughnuts. These trucks of many talents do big jobs faster than ever before. They do them better than ever before. All told, they help us do a more efficient job in bringing you the good phone service you've come to expect.

School District Tells Plan For Oak Knoll

Menlo Park School District this week gave the city the green light on installation of $5000 worth of improvements for the playground at Oak Knoll school.

Trustees did this by adopting a master plan for development of the grounds, in which they pinpoint locations of any possible future buildings which they feel may be added.

The trustees, together with Architect Kingsford Jones, toured the school's area last Saturday. They decided that the only installations which could be built without cutting down needed play area would be a three-classroom along Oak avenue, a new, separate kindergarten building near the present administrative office, and possibly aditions to the multi-purpose building.

For maximum development of the playground, they conceded, it will be necessary to remove three oak trees, three palm trees, two pepper trees and a pine tree.

The city made $5000 available for the Oak Knoll development, as a cooperative development, when they passed a bond issue in 1956. Work has been stalled since, because of the city's reluctance to do work in any area that might, in the next few years, be built upon.

Sweet Adelines Change Locale

Sweet Adelines, Inc., peninsula chapter, the women's chorus and barbershop quartets group co-sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton Adult Education Department and the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District will meet each Monday night from 8 to 10 p.m. at the Ravenswood Social Center, 550 Bell street, East Palo Alto, starting Feb. 24.

Formerly the songsters met at Kavanaugh School.

The group is directed by Norman Corey.

'GETTING OUT THE VOTE'—M-A STYLE

CALL TO CITIZENS—Student leaders at Menlo-Atherton High School this week got into the forefront of the campaign to register voters for the forthcoming May 20 school elections, setting up a schedule of tours through neighborhoods of the south county where population turnover is known to be large, or where new construction has brought in new and not-yet-registered voters. The tours, on weekends, feature students in the role of doorbell-ringers calling attention to deputy registrars of voters who will be driving through the areas at the same time. After their canvass for voters, the students intend to go to work in behalf of the Sequoia High School District's forthcoming bond issue. Among those aiding the effort are, left to right, Lynda Scott, Student Body President Kent Morton and Jean Lorent.

Meade Summers Jr. Cited by Dean

Meade Henry Summers, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Meade Henry Summers, 1885 Oakdell drive, Menlo Park, has recently been named to the Dean's List at Brown University for high academic standing.

A graduate of John Burroughs school, he is a member of the senior class and is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree .

He is also a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity, president of the Jabberwocks (singing group), treasurer of the Cammarian Club (under-graduate governing body), and Steward of the Sphinx Club (honorary student-faculty discussion group).

Oroville is the western gateway to the Feather River Canyon.

Three From M-A GMC Scholarship Semifinalists

Peter L. Belew, Kent S. Hull, and Phillip E. Stevenson, seniors at Menlo-Atherton High School, are among 800 semifinalists chosen from nearly 21,000 applicants for the 100 General Motors Corporation's scholarships to be awarded this year.

The basis for their selection was a scholastic aptitude test administered by the Educational Testing Service in New Jersey, a national testing agency for higher institutions. This is the first year M-A has had more than two students among the national semifinalists.

The final winners of the 100 scholarships will be determined in March.

Depending upon the demonstrated need of the winners, the value of each scholarship will range from $200 to $2000 per year. The grants are renewable during the full four years of the college course.

A winner is free to select any accredited school he wishes to attend, and he may pursue any course of study under the G.M.C. plan.

DEN 4 VISITS PAPER

Nine members of Den 4, Cub Scout Pack 4 of Fremont School, last Friday toured the Menlo Park Recorder office. They were accompanied by Den Mothers Mrs. Emilie Garfield and Mrs. Gerry Davis.

Year's First Polio Case in Atherton Reported by County

A case of non-paralytic poliomyelitis first reported last November 13 in Atherton, was last week listed as the first case of the disease in this area this year.

The onset of polio cases throughout the county has been dropping steadily, in spite of the fact that the county exhausted its supply of state and federal free vaccine last fall.

Dr. H. D. Chope, the department's director, advised this week that persons who have not completed their course of Salk shots, should consult their personal physician. There is no information as to when booster shots will be needed by those who have taken the course, he adds.

The case of polio was the only communicable disease reported from Atherton during January.

Menlo Park, during the same month, reported three cases of gonorrhea, one case of tuberculosis and assorted cases of chicken pox, measles and mumps.

Some mumps was also reported from the Woodside area.

STUDENTS TAKE TOUR

Members of the staff of the Willow School Chatterbox, school publication, last Thursday visited the Recorder and toured its plant. The 17 staff members were accompanied by Mrs. Jean Golden and Mrs. Mabel Bones, teachers, and Mrs. Richard Jones, mother of one of the students.

Tot Race Track Proposal Is Withdrawn

A request by T. S. Ferguson of Oakland for the rezoning of property belonging to Roger Reynolds Nursery on El Camino Real to permit the construction of a midget auto track was yesterday withdrawn before the San Mateo County Planning Commission.

Ferguson, in stating the reasons for withdrawing his request, said that he was unaware of the opposition of neighboring towns and residents to the development and that he did not want to cause any hard feelings in the community.

The request originally made to the Commission was for the rezoning of part of the Reynolds nursery to allow for the contrack for small autos designed as recreation for children.

Formal complaints were filed by the City of Menlo Park and the Town of Atherton as well as numerous residents insisting that such an enterprise would be out of character for the area and cause considerable discomfort to the neighboring residences.

Since the proposed site was in an unincorporated area, the county would have to permit the construction.

Las Lomitas Board Meets

An executive session was held last night by trustees of the Las Lomitas School District.

With personnel matters under discussion, the meeting was closed to the public, in accordance with the Brown Act of the State of California.

Date of the next regular meeting was not announced.

Respond to Protests:

City Reaffirms National Guard Agreement for Armory in City

National Guard representatives appeared before the Menlo Park city council this week to object to the city's protests about the acquisition of valuable property for non-tax paying institutions, principally divisions of the Federal government.

Referring to a letter mailed last week to various state and Federal government officials voicing these objections, Major Felix G. Hampton, commanding officer of the local guard unit, presented a letter to the council in which he pointed out the guard's long standing claim to an armory site in Menlo Park.

Mayor William R. Lawson said in reply, "You're just as sensitive as we are. Our objection is to the Federal government coming in and taking 10 acres along Middlefield road without regard to us, our street pattern or our plans for the development of our city.

"There is no objection to your putting your armory here, but we want to put it where it will benefit both you and us."

He pointed out that the city originally offered the guard a section of the five acres which has just been given to the Geological Survey.

Councilman Michael Belangie said that there are only two sections which the city refuses to concede to an armory site, "the corner of Ravenswood and Middlefield and the Linfield Oaks area," but he added, these seem to be the only spots people want.

The council agreed that they want the armory in Menlo Park and that they consider themselves obligated to find them a site, but not on property which could better serve the city with tax revenues from private businesse.s

Major Hampton conceded that it might be possible to effect a trade in land if the Federal government awarded the guard the Ravenswood-Middlefield corner and the city allocated another site for them. He said the guard would need only one and a half to two acres for the site. The Ravenswood-Middlefield lot, presently owned by the Federal government, is five acres.

A suggestion was made to explore the possibility of getting a portion of the USGS site for the armory.

New Traffic Law Being Enforced

Menlo Park police last week began stringent enforcement of a new motor vehicle code provision which makes it illegal to make a U-turn at a highway intersection controlled by a signal light.

The law was enacted last September, Chief Potter said, and since then officers have been warning motorists when they've been caught making such U-turns. Now, the police are issuing citations.

Your meters make pretty good thermometers

When the temperature drops, it takes more gas and electricity to make you comfortable. That's why your P. G. and E. bill is higher this time of year.

Anyone who reads gas and electric meters has a pretty accurate record of this winter's temperatures. Cold weather and long nights mean more heat, more lights ... more work for most all your appliances.

But two things help take the sting out of your winter bills: P. G. and E. rates are lower than in 1936 ... and your unit cost of gas and electricity goes down as your use increases.

Based on today's typical home use—250 kwh of electricity and 100 therms of gas.

As We See It:

Death Adds New Urgency To Drag Race Study

Two young people died last weekend in a mid-Peninsula "drag race."

The tragedy has thrown a bright new glare of urgency on the situation revealed exclusively in the news and editorial columns of this newspaper within the last month.

All of a sudden, Peninsula judges and law enforcement officials are jumping into the headlines with alarmed utterances that SOMETHING MUST BE DONE!

As always, the first cry is, "Stamp it out!"

"We must have new laws, and we must stop drag racing in all forms!"

Such reaction is all very well. Stricter laws, stiffer penalties, sterner enforcement will do a part of the job, but a positive program to substitute other, safer activities is necessary before legal curbs on impromptu racing can be effective.

We believe the present drag racing menace stems from two sources. First — and most dangerous — is the thrill-seeking youngster. Out "on the town" with the family car or his own "souped up" job, he is tempted to prove his horsepower and his nerve by racing for the thrill of it.

The other type of drag racer is the youngster sincerely interested in mechanics, who has perhaps put together his own auto body and rebuilt his engine. Naturally he wants to test how good it is.

Law enforcement can reduce drag racing of both types, but merely sitting on the lid will not reduce the pressure. The thrill seeker will find other ways of risking his neck. The young mechanic, however, will find his enthusiasm dampened and possibly, too, turned in less desirable directions, unless some intelligent way is found to allow him to test his skill with relative safety.

We urgently second the cries for tighter laws and heavier penalties to curb the use of public streets and highways for impromptu racing. The lives of the public — as well as of the youngsters themselves — must not be endangered by having our arteries of traffic turned into midnight race courses and "amusement" parks.

But we reiterate our belief that much positive good can be achieved if responsible citizens will help organize programs for youthful motorists. Respect for the high-powered machines they control can be instilled, and understanding of safe driving practices can be emphasized by such means as organized economy runs, maneuverability tests, mechanical checks and other such events.

We're all for clamping down the lid, but we believe that a channel to siphon the pressure into fields that aid safe driving education can and must be found.

From the Local Rookery

As of last week, Menlo-Atherton High School's chess team had a winning streak of nine straight matches going. 'Pawn our word, they're truly kings of the gambit. We venture to say, the shadow of defeat falls as knight over all opposition.

And it's all for fun. Not one of them ever received a check, mate!

'High-and-Dry' Opponents Of Drainage Are All Wet

Once again we are hearing the outraged outcries of those who face assessment for storm drainage facilities, this time as Atherton renews efforts to realize its long-planned $900,000 canal project.

Whenever an assessment is proposed for any purpose, be it to provide a parking lot, to pave a street or put in storm sewers, there will be those who loudly declare that the project is ill-conceived, useless, injurious to their rights as free citizens of a democracy. What they mean is that they don't want to have to pay.

Furthermore, in any storm drainage undertaking, the anticipated outcries can be even more specifically pinpointed long before they are expressed. The outraged citizenry will declare, "We don't have any trouble with flooding; the water that falls on our property goes straight down into the soil; the district won't benefit us, and for these reasons it is unfair to assess us for any costs involved."

The fact is that, in any drainage basin, the only persons who suffer are the few who live along the lower levels. The vast majority experience little difficulty in ignoring or leaping lightly over the small streams that flow past their driveways. But the fellow who lives at the confluence of those little streams, who has them wash away his property or settle in a pond in the living room deserves some consideration.

Perhaps the flooded-out lowlander has lived there for years and never had any difficulty before the uplands were developed and the myriad of roofs and driveways began to form a watershed.

Can those "uplanders" say, with an easy conscience, that the flood is none of their concern? Perhaps, when the Sharon estate is developed above them, they, in turn, will view the matter in a different light.

In any community, where people dwell together in close proximity, there are responsibilities that must be shared by all. Storm drainage is one of these, and we believe it only fair that all residents of a so-called "basin" should share equally in such projects, whether they are the fortunate ones atop the hill or the unfortunates who wade in the water that pours from uphill roofs and driveways.

As we say, we expect such protests, but we cannot concur with them. We hope the outspoken opponents will get it off their chests and then will sit back and recognize that they owe some responsibility to the community in which they chose to live.

TELLS US:

The fiduciary mind at work:

Menlo Park School District trustees Tuesday night spent about two minutes deciding that the purchase of a $6000 accounting machine would be a good idea and a time-saver for the district, then spent another 15 minutes trying to figure whether money to pay for such a gadget should come from this year's budget, next year's, or whether it should be financed over a longer period.

They have to review the matter before they can decide.

It wasn't Santa Claus that came down the chimney of the L. E. Dowd home at 126 Baywood drive last Thursday.

It was a squirrel. A black squirrel, who was just as confused as Mrs. Dowd.

The squirrel descended the chimney at 10:57 a.m. He didn't say why he was in the house, but he apparently wanted to see how many nuts the place would hold. He scampered upstairs.

Mrs. Dowd admits that she doesn't understand squirrel; she called the fire department.

Deputy Chief Edwin Wickstrom responded. He opened the front door and then shooed the squirrel out.

Humphrey, desert tortoise who's been making his home with the Joseph Scaroni family at 8 Politzer drive, doesn't like rain.

He went back into hibernation this week, after "coming to" Friday, to enjoy the weekend's fine weather.

It's reported that, Tuesday, he buried himself in the sandbox which has been put in the Scaroni garage for his use.

If the patients at the Menlo Park Veteran hospital are wondering where the nut cups that decorated their tables for Valentine's Day dinner came from, they'll have to give at least some of the credit to Mrs. Golden's fifth grade class at Willow School.

Old political issue die hard.

This was emphasized last week on the Peninsula when somebody in the 2500-odd-person audience inquired of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt:

"Do you think that your late husband's proposal, in 1937, to enlarge the Supreme Court from nine to 15 members, was a good idea?"

Mrs. Roosevelt had spoken for more than an hour about "Russia" before the question and answer period opened. But the questioner obviously had more important things to think about.

The special seagulls that fly only as far inland as the Menlo Park Sanitary District sewage treatment plant when a storm is approaching arrived there on schedule late Monday.

"Our birds are sort of special," commented one of the operators. "I haven't seen it storm so bad that they flew further inland."

The troop meets Mondays at 7:30 p.m. at the Fremont basement.

Municipal Report:

Fire Department Report Notes Rise in Damage From Fires Here

Losses due to fires in the Menlo Park Fire District nearly tripled in 1957 as compared with 1956, Chief George B. Carter reported to his board of commissioners last week.

His actual figure was $227,749.31 estimated loss; in 1956, the total stood at $78,297.94. This meant, he said, that the per capita loss to the district residents averaged $3.64 last year, as compared with $1.23 for the previous twelve months.

Another way of looking at the same problem is by comparing the damage done to the total of valuation of the fire district.

Using the county assessor's figures as a basis, we find the estimated true valuation of the fire disctrict's real estate and improvements to be $342,027,740; this means that the fire loss was 66 one-thousandths of a percent of the total.

The latter figure doesn't look like much. But the first figure—the one which says that if the load had been distributed evenly, fires here last year would have cost every man, woman and child $3.64—means more.

Actually, the evenness of the distribution might be closer to fact than a casual observer might think. Fire insurance is a pretty standard expense in the household budget.

Most fires are caused by either careiessness or human error and last year was no exception. Added to this was one case of arson, which damaged the Green Oaks School in East Palo Alto to the extent of more than $18,000.

Of the 157 fires involving structures—these are the kind of fires in which heavy damage results—only 24 resulted in more than $1000 loss. In all cases fire department response was prompt and effective, but in several cases, the blaze was well under way before firemen were called.

Thus a warehouse, boat works, washer manufacturing company and an Atherton guest house, all discovered to be in flames at unusual hours, were among the worst damaged.

Actually, the firemen do a lot more than answer calls to fires. They're on hand for all sorts of emergencies; they answered a total of 891 alarms last year though only 407 of these were to actual fires.

Other calls to which they responded were 111 to smoke investigations; 35 to false alarms; 66 to emergencies, such as difficulties which residents had in breathing, or helping heart attack victims; 203 to special service calls and nine to rescue animals.

The report said that 66 of the calls answered were needless; but they don't add they're particularly sorry about this. They'd rather be safe.

FLOOD PARK SITE OF YOUTH PROGRAMS

Flood Park this summer will again be the site for youth group programs between June and September this summer.

Among other organizations to participate in these programs will be area Boy Scouts.

The Readers Speak:

MUSIC FOR GEORGE

Editor, the Recorder:

It seems to me that a good way to celebrate George Washington's birthday (February 22) is to go to hear some real American music. Most people get tired of juke boxes and radio and some come to the conclusion that Americans just aren't musical. All these doubting Thomases ought to go to the folk music concert at the Palo Alto Community Center on Washington's birthday (8:30 in the evening). They will hear what you rarely can hear on the radio; songs of our country played and sung well.

Mrs. Judy Gilbert,
Mountain View

COMMENDATION

Editor, the Recorder:

I wish to commend you on your fine editorial pertaining to the failure of the Menlo Park Council to join the South San Mateo County Disposal District. It means highly increased refuse disposal costs to all Menlo Park residents.

As an owner of four units in Menlo Park, the 100 per cent raise in garbage rates means an added cost of $36 per year. The failure to join the Disposal District means, in addition, $50 more for garden clipping removal. The latter is a free municipal service in most peninsula communities—why not in Menlo Park?

Perhaps the answer is an organization of multiple unit owners in Menlo Park.

Thank you again for your discerning editorial on this municipal problem.

Sincerely,
Nathan Silen

Bay-to-Hills Annexation Plans Heard

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

February 24, 1928:

"In line with the many discussions heard on the streets lately in regard to annexation of outlying districts to this city a big mass meeting has called for tomorrow night at the school at Menlo Oaks. This subject has been discussed before in the as well as on the other side of the city and it looks very much as if a movement was on foot to extend the city limits of the City of Menlo Park from the bay on one side to the top of the hill on the other.

"People residing in the Menlo Oaks district realize the advantage of being a part of the City of Menlo Park and desire the protection that will be afforded them in building restrictions and other ways and are therefore very desirous of becoming a part of the city . . ."

And 10 Years Ago:

New Library Site Was Sought

"The problem of a location for the Menlo Park Branch of the County Library definitely had not been settled this week.

"Remodeling of the liquor tavern building at 773 Santa Cruz avenue, which last week seemed the answer, will cost more than $3,000, contractors' estimates showed. Previous guesses were from $300 to $1,000.

"However, a new location in a duplex on Menlo avenue between Crane and Chestnut streets came to light. The duplex has 1,700 square feet of floor space, and would triple the size of the present quarters in the City Hall . . ."

HILLVIEW SCHOOL SITE WAS CHOSEN

"Proposed site of the new primary school in the western area of the Menlo Park School District is on Elder avenue . . . between Santa Cruz and Valparaiso avenues.

"Mel Homfeld, superintendent of the school, is negotiating with heirs of the William Sharon estate for purchase of seven and one-half acres . . ."

Car Turns Over On Highway

An auto driven by James H. Collins, 16, of Redwood City was turned over Saturday evening at Selby lane and El Camino Real, when it crossed the path of a second vehicles when making a left turn.

Driver of the second car involved, Atherton police said, was Albert J. Gardi, 40, also of Redwood City. He was proceeding south on the highway and said a car to the left of his partially blocked the view, so he didn't see Collins' vehicle enter the intersection.

Nobody was hurt.

County Comment:

Political Races Shaping Up Here As County Readies for Primaries

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson has filed a $465,316.74 suit against former County Engineer M. A. Grant to recover funds spent on county roads without the permission for a shift in budgeted items by the board of supervisors.

This action is the result of last year's militant county grand jury and the district attorney was forced into court action after repeatedly saying the former engineer had not benefitted personally.

While Sorenson has been forced into the court case, it might be a move to "make hay" before the June primaries. Rumors are that he is to have opposition and to have his opponent charge him with sitting on his hands and ignoring the grand jury could be damaging.

But no matter how the case is decided Sorenson can at least say he let the courts decide the issue and not his office. From his statements, he apparently feels there is little ground for the damage suit.

The actual trial could be a bubble-buster for possibly other officials, including the board of supervisors and the controllers' office. How Grant was allowed to shift the funds from one budgeted project to another was prettty well explained when the members of the board were freed of misconduct in office charges last fall after the jury forced Sorenson to take that charge to the courts.

The county manager also will be brought more prominently into the evidence. Before the decision is reached, we may have Grant coming out like a rose and some other people facing some possible criticism and even charges that would have to be fought out in the courts.

Sorenson himself, so it is said, also had a small part in allowing the fund shifting to continue.

Of course, all this comes as rich fodder for political aspirants who want to dump incumbent officials. The chief targets are the members of the board of supervisors, of course. The race is already wide open for the vacant spot being created by the retiring of veteran Martin Poss of San Mateo.

As we predicted, Louis Chess, the vice chairman of the county civil service commission, announced his candidacy this week and looms as the strongest in the field. In fact his official entry may cause some aspirants to drop out. The rush to get on the ballot against Edward McDonald of Burlingame is not materializing as predicted, although it is still early.

The scene is quiet, too, on the many races for the judgeships. Three superior court judges and four municipal judges must run this year. It was expected that the north county muni judgeship would become a wide-open race, but now we hear that Thomas L. Bocci has withdrawn his resignation to Governor Knight and will stay in office, presumably to run again in June.

The filing period for these offices is Feb. 24-28, and it doesn't look like much if any opposition.

Those who must seek re-election are Superior Judges Edmund Scott, Wayne R. Millington and Frank S. Blum. The latter two were recent appointees to their jobs but appear safe from competition according to the present trend.

We'll wager 100 to 1 that Judge Scott will go into a new term without a fight. Muni Judges Edward Ryan and Edward I. McAuliffe of Redwood City must run, as do Judges J. A. Branson and Bocci. Muni Judge Marcel Biscay of San Mateo does not have to run this year because of a condition in his appointment.

There were a lot of surprised brows in the courthouse last week when John S. Cowgill suddenly resigned as the county's chief probation officer. The amazement was not so much the official's quitting to seek richer fields, but the quick selection of Loren A. Beckley as his successor.

Most of the observers had been predicting for months that Anthony Lovoi would be in line for the top job. Attorney Cuthbert Currie, who is chairman of the probation department, announced Beckley's selection with full approval of Superior Judge Aylett R. Cotton. Lovoi was thought to be the "fair-haired boy" of most county officials even while Cowgill allowed rumors to float around that he would resign. What happened in the meantime would be an interesting story if anyone could uncover the political moves that developed.

We've come to the conclusion that progress must go on after all. For lo these many years we've felt that those great big flying machines were only a fad and soon would be ruled out of the skies and unsafe and a menace to mankind.

We finally found the courage to climb up those "hundreds" of steps into a big United Air Lines Mainliner and fly to San Diego for the State Newspaper Publishers convention. Yep, by gum, we're gonna sell our horse and buggy and fly the airlines. You know them there hostesses are so much prettier than the horse.

Maybe one reason we were so "brave" we were riding with those prize-winning publishers, Ray Spangler of the Tribune and C. A. Burley of the Menlo Park Recorder who were grinning so pleased after winning first place state awards. Both are veterans at this flying business.

Philosophy, Prose and Poetry By Rev. Bone

"Walking on Together," Essays and Poems by Lawrence Bone, Exposition Press, N.Y. 95 pages. $2.75.

Lawrence Bone, minister emritus of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church, has collected some 70 essay and poem combinations covering the 80 odd years of his life.

Poet Bone has given us a glimpse at his philosophy of life through a prose and poetical media using experiences which were very real parts of his life. Writing of his wife, son, job, happiness and sorrow, the author leaves the reader with a clear impression of his likes and dislikes, his ideals and goals.

As a minister and a poet, Bone is very much concerned with the interest of man in his own life, of how a person can reap the award of satisfaction from a life spent in self-discipline and moral achievement.

To his son leaving for college, Bone, who lives at 649 Cambridge avenue, said:

"Son, what's your aim as you enter the strife,
Making a living or making a life?"

And to the man nearing the close of his time:

"Answer, old friend, as you're quitting the strife,
Won you a living or won you a
life?"

In his introduction, the poet says that "Getting a laugh is the only reason for doing a lot of things. . . . If I get a laugh (from this publication), that will be part of my reward." We are sure that Rev. Bone got his reward; and we are grateful to him for allowing us to share his experiences which brought forth the laughter.

Mrs. Hunt was expecting a second child in two months.

Another passenger in the auto in which she was riding, Robert J. Bruschi, 21, of San Mateo, also died in the crash. Three other passengers suffered minor injuries; driver John Miller, 22, of Redwood City, was later booked by police on a charge of suspicion of manslaughter.

Mrs. Hunt had made her home with her husband, Robert, 19, at 16 San Juan way in Menlo Park.

The crash in which Mrs. Hunt and Bruschi lost their lives occurred when the car in which they were riding careened out of control on Hudson street in a quiet residential neighborhood and struck two parked cars.

For Swimming Pool:

County Supervisors Okay Ladera Recreation Agency Proposal

A formal resolution setting forth the boundaries of a recreation district for the community of Ladera will be presented to the San Mateo County board of supervisors for approval next Tuesday.

At a hearing early this week the county officials gave unanimous sanction to the proposal placed before them by representatives of the Ladera Community association. All that remains is to set forth in legal language the boundaries of the district to include both developed and undeveloped portions of the subdivision and its adjacent shopping area.

Two elections, one to authorize the recreation district with a board of five non-salaried directors and another to approve a bond issue, are necessary before land can be acquired for a swimming pool and other facilities to serve the needs of the area.

Both the Ladera shopping center and some 94 acres of undeveloped residential land were included in the district over the objections of William Kelly, representing the Portola Valley Development Co. which presently owns both of these sections of land.

Kelly's objection were that the shopping center would not benefit from the formation of the recreational district while still paying taxes. He said that while the taxes on the undeveloped residential area were nominal, if the bond issue was successful the present property holders of Ladera would be deciding something that future residents would have no choice but to accept.

REBUTTAL

This argument was taken on by Supervisor Tom Callan.

"I know you developers," Callan said. "When you are selling those undeveloped lots you will be pointing out to your prospects the attractive advantages of recreational facilities, if they exist, and you will charge more for the lots."

The supervisors also said that the shopping center would benefit because the people would remain in the community during the summer months, there would be less turnover of property owners, and the children would have convenient and wholesome atmosphere in which to gather, rather than loitering around the shopping center.

Residents owning some 20 lots in the area asked to have these lots excluded. The supervisors decided that these lots were scattered over a wide area throughout the subdivision, and would pose administrative difficulties if they were not included. Some 325 families currently reside in the subdivision.

The Ladera Community Association, representing nearly all of the residents has already made public a preliminary cost analysis on the building and land for the recreational park. Lawrence Ebb, association president, revealed that based on the findings, the facilities could be provided at a cost of from $75,000 to $85,000.

"Calculated on the basis of these estimates the recreational area would cost present taxpayers in the district approximately $15 per annum," Ebb stated. "This would be in addition to other taxes."

He also argued that the undeveloped 94 acres should be included in the district in order to plan intelligently for the recreational needs of new and future residents.

Oaks See Win Over E.Bay Club

By JEFF ROWAN

Menlo College, having proved itself a giant killer Tuesday night by upsetting league leader San Jose JC, will attempt to duplicate this role again tomorrow night when they travel to meet East Contra Costa JC.

East Contra Costa, by virtue of their win over Vallejo Tuesday and San Jose's loss to Menlo, earned a share of first place in Coast Conference basketball play with San Jose. ECC and San Jose hold identical records of 6-2. The Oaks lost almost all chance of being a contender for the top spot in conference standings last Friday when they lost a closely fought contest to Hartnell, 56-55. Menlo's record in conference play now stands at 4-4.

Bob Wuesthoff will go with his usual starting five of Noel Barnes, and Jim Woodland at forwards, Phil Kelly at center, and Jim Westlake and Bob Wendell at the guard spots. Wendell and Westlake have been Wuesthoff's sparkplugs in recent outings. Westlake, the Oaks' deadeye jump shot artist from Chico, leads Menlo with a 16 point game average and Wendell, ex-Menlo-Atherton prep standout has been outstanding for his floor game and ball-hawking feats.

EAST BAY THREAT

East Contra Costa won over Menlo by a 65-61 overtime score a few weeks ago. The Vikings from the east bay have been the surprise club of the conference. Expected no higher than fourth place in conference ratings at the start of the season, the Vikes have come a long way and are now considered as one of the two powerhouses of the conference.

Tuesday night the Jaguars from San Jose found Menlo a much more spirited and aggressive ball club than the Menlo team they trounced in an earlier conference game. Menlo, shooting 49 per cent from the floor, and spearheaded by Westlake's 18 points in the first half upset the league leaders, 72-67 in a game played before a packed crowd at Menlo's gym.

San Jose led only once during the game. With Westlake pushing through Menlo's first 11 points, the Oaks caught fire and held a 38-32 halftime advantage. Within four minutes of the second half the Jaguars cut Menlo's lead to 38-37, but with some nifty jump shooting by Jim Woodland, the Oaks forged ahead to an eleven point bulge which it never relinquished until late in the game. With three minutes remaining, San Jose moved within a point of the Oaks. But cool-headed guard Bob Wendell dumped in three field goals and two free throws within the last three minutes to ice the game for Menlo.

2 Elementary Basketball Teams End Season Competition Undefeated

Encinal Two and Las Lomitas Two tied for the championship of the Menlo Park Recreation department's Eighth Grade Basketball League, which was completed last Saturday at Burgess gym.

Both co-champions had 6-0 records. Because of the great number of teams (14) in the league this winter, a round-robin schedule was not used, and the two unbeaten teams never faced each other.

Menlo Oaks One finished one game back with a 5-1 mark and Encinal One was 5-2. Menlo Oaks Two took fifth with 4-2.

Encinal Two edged Oak Knoll One 26-20 and Las Lomitas Two topped Oak Knoll Three 18-10 last Saturday to wrap up their shares of the title.

OTHER SCORES

Encinal Three 21, Hillview One 15, Oak Knoll Two 18, Hillview three 17, Menlo Oaks Two 20, Hillview Two 18, Menlo Oaks One 20, Las Lomitas One 4, Encinal One 32, St. Joseph's 14.

Top scorers of the day, all with 10 points, were Marty Christiansen of Encinal One ,Cook of Encinal Two, and Kuimer of Encinal Three. Recine and Larry Gough of Encinal One had nine.

Matthews of Encinal Two, Beise of Oak Knoll One and Schindale of Menlo Oaks One all scored eight and Ewing of Hillview Two, and Werner of Hillview One each scored seven.

Oak Knoll Two was ahead of Hillview Three 16-7 entering the last quarter but scored just one basket and won by a single point, 18-17. Encinal Two also had to hold off a last period rally by Oak Knoll One to gain its victory.

M-A's Track Squad Sees Big Season

Menlo-Atherton's track squad is definitely getting into shape and showing some possibilities, according to Coach Don Dorfmeier. He already has his team on a rigid training schedule and a tentative selection of men for the different events.

First event of the season will be on Feb. 28 when the Bears travel to Palo Alto for a relay meet. The league season will open the following week when Willow Glen arrives on the M-A track for a round of events.

This is the way Dorfmeier's varsity squad looks to him:

Shot and discuss: Frank Atkinson, Gary Burke, Norman Chapin, Dick Costello, Paul Dupont, Doug Hancock, Al Kohlhardt, Mike Klawin, Charles Lukas, Ed LeClaire, Ed McGinus, Steve Murov, Bruce Nakata, Dan Richardson, Ron Robertson, Dieter Shultz.

Mile run: Dick Aced, Hal Brum, John Hunt, Terry Henderson, John Kindsey, Todd Phipers, Dick Randell, Squee Smith, Eric Sweagles, Jon Thomas, Bob Whiteaker.

880-yard run: David Baker, Ben Eastman, Doug Hovik, Dick Randall, Dick Walde.

Sprints: Terry Baker, Dick Fehrt, Doug Hovik, Brent Jonas, Willie Waller.

Hurdles: Charles Bubb, Les Dalecio, Gary DeGive, Ron Foster, Bob Kennedy.

Pole vault: Dan Bradley.

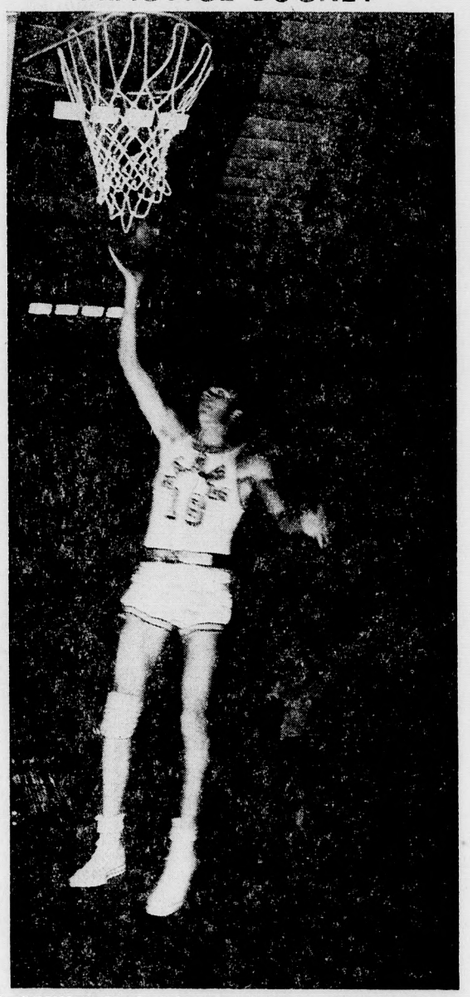

High jump: Fred Courter, Dick Campbell, Henry Fullenwider, Bob Kennedy, Bob Kaldveer.

PRACTICE BUCKET

HAL BRUMM, Menlo-Atherton varsity basketball player who has been helping the Bears to victories this year. Brumm is shown here as he goes for a lay-up in a practice session at the M-A gym.

Local Matster Heads for NCS

Menlo-Atherton is looking to wrestler Doug Catchings to bring home the laurels this weekend when he travels to Berkeley to compete in the Northern California State wrestling tournament.

Catchings took honors last weekend in the North Coast Section tournament held at Menlo-Atherton gym. Competing in the 120 pound class, Catchings out - grappled all other contestants in that weight class to take first place and be the only M-A wrestler to head for Berkeley where he will represent the North Coast Section as well as M-A in the northern state competition.

The north state tournament is virtually a state-wide affair as only the northern schools mat wrestling teams. Other areas to be represented at Berkeley will be the San Francisco-Oakland area and two divisions further inland.

Catchings has been one of the top wrestlers for Menlo-Atherton this year, consistently winning in almost every meet. He has been one of the prime reasons for the Grizzlies success in taking the championship in the South Peninsula Athletic League.

Wrestling coach Sam Lugonja has turned out a fine squad this year, of which Catchings has proven to be the most outstanding example with his present singular victory on the M-A squad. All of Menlo-Atherton is proud of Lugonja for producing a winning club with an undefeated league season but it wasn't a surprise to anyone. It's a well known fact in the showers at M-A that Sam is one of the few who could teach those kids to moan and groan and grind their teeth in the true spirit of grapplers. And all are proud of Lugonja and his team for grinding their way to victory in the SPAL.

M-A 12th In Mat Tourney

Menlo-Atherton's grappler Doug Catchings won first place honors in the 120 pound class at the North Coast Section meet held last Saturday at the M-A gym. Catchings, the only M-A wrestler to place in the meet, won his match by a referee's decision over Gilbert DeLeon of Gilroy after wrestling to a 5-5 tie in overtime.

Earlier in the tournament, Catchings had won a decision over Jerry Martin of Hollister by 3 to 1 and over Bill Silveria of Castro Valley by 3 to 1.

THREE FROM AREA

Two other wrestlers in the Sequoia district placed in their weight class to travel with Catching's to Berkeley this Saturday for competition in the Northern California State competition. The others were Carlmont wrestlers; Joe Ingoglia won the 103 pound class and Steve Nelson took fourth in the 191 pound division. Carlmont was the only SPAL team to finish above Menlo-Atherton. They took tenth spot with 20 points while M-A placed twelfth with 15 points. Castro Valley won the competition with 65 points.

The Grizzlies had romped over the Carlmont wrestlers two weeks ago when they met in the South Peninsula Athletic League season-end competition; and in an individual match earlier in the season, the M-A squad defeated the Scots.

Champions in each division:

103—Joe Ingoglia (Carlmont).

Each of these men, plus of the second, third and fourth place winners in these divisions, will wrestle Saturday at the University of California in the Northern California State finals.

MP Rec Slates Meet

Covington of Los Altos and Las Lomitas of Menlo Park—champion and runner-up in 1957—are the only seeded teams in the Menlo Park Recreation department's second annual Washington's Birthday Eighth Grade Basketball tournament starting this Saturday at Burgess gym.

Increased from eight to 14 teams and from two days to three weekends because of its inaugural success last year, the tournament represents the only source of inter-city competition on the eighth grade level in the South Peninsula.

OTHER PARTICIPANTS

Teams from Los Altos, Sunnyvale, East Palo Alto, Menlo Park, San Carlos, San Mateo and San Bruno will participate.

Six first round and two loser's bracket consolation round games will be played this Saturday—Washington's birthday. Quarter-final games in championship and consolation brackets and championship bracket semi-finals will be played March 1. On March 8, the consolation semis and championship games in both brackets will be played.

Admission to the games, at Burgess Park gym, on Laurel avenue, in Stanford Village, Menlo Park, is free.

Schedule for Saturday's opening day:

9 a.m.—Menlo Oaks (Menlo Park) vs. Terra Linda (San Carlos).

10 a.m.—Oak Knoll (Menlo Park) vs. Madrone (Sunnyvale).

11 a.m.—Benner (Sunnyvale) vs. Borel (San Mateo).

12 noon—St. Joseph's (Menlo Park) vs. Encinal (Menlo Park).

1 p.m.—Green Oaks (East Palo Alto) vs. Parkside (San Bruno).

2 p.m.—Hillview (Menlo Park) vs. Hillsborough.

3 p.m.—Losers of Menlo Oaks-Terra Linda and Oak Knoll-Madrone games.

4 p.m.—Losers of Benner-Borel and St. Joseph's-Encinal games.

Eight games will be played again March 1 and four March 8.

Covington and Las Lomitas, seeding directly into the quarter-finals, make their bow the second week. Las Lomitas meets the winner of Hillview-Hillsborough and Covington plays the winner of Green Oaks-Parkside.

A YEAR AGO

Last year, Covington dropped Las Lomitas 27-19 in the championship game as tall Jim Kraus scored 11 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Kraus, now 6-2, is a freshman standout on the Los Altos High School lightweight team and promises to be one of the Peninsula's top cage stars.

The Menlo Park Recreation department will present trophies to the champions and runners-up in both brackets and to the individual members of the first place squad.

South Peninsula Athletic League (high school) referees and statisticians will officiate at all games and complete tournament records will be tallied.

Tournament director is Horace Aubertine, basketball director of the Menlo Park Recreation department.

Cage Season Nears End; M-A Teams Top SPAL

Cougars Pose Little Threat To Varsity Club

Varsity cagers at Menlo-Atherton expect to repeat their earlier win of the season over Cubberley tomorrow evening when they travel to the foe's courts. Last time these two teams met, the Bears came out on top, 43 to 36.

Even if the Bears do win their last two games of the season, it is doubtful that they could wind up in first place in the SPAL. If Lincoln loses their next two bouts, the Bears could tie for first, but the chances for a play-off are very unlikely.

Traditionally, the winner of the Peninsula Athletic League is slated to go to the Tournament of Champions in March, but it looks this year as if the NPAL will make this trip without any competition from the south. They have courted the strongest clubs this season and the chances of the SPAL winners taking the title away from them is pretty unlikely.

But, if the varsity downs Cubberley tomorrow evening and then takes last place Carlmont next week, they will have undisputed second place in the league.

B's Must Win Two

The B basketball team at Menlo-Atherton High is looking for a win over Cubberley tomorrow evening to strengthen their first place position in the South Peninsula Athletic League.

Remembering a 36 to 32 win over the Cubberley squad earlier in the season, the M-A lightweights are planning to repeat this, except with a wider margin in their favor.

Playing a zone defense last time, Coach Bill Loftus' players switched to a man to man defense in the last few minutes to come from behind for the victory. Loftus expects to use the zone defense again tomorrow evening, but will be ready to shift into man-to-man defense if the foes are scoring too much. With a zone defense, Loftus says, the B's have better control of the backboards.

Carlmont and Sequoia are presently tied for second place in the league, so any loss could throw the race into a three way tie. The B's will play Carlmont a week from tomorrow which may prove to be the deciding game in the league.

Week's Results Push Bears Out Of 1st Place Race

Menlo-Atherton's varsity cage squad won one and lost one last week to throw themselves out of the running for the South Peninsula Athletic League championship.

WILLOW GLEN

Tromping all over the Willow Glen Rams last Friday evening, the Bears came up with their highest score of the season, a 76 to 52 victory to give them their ninth win of the South Peninsula League season.

Led in part by forward Bob Ralls, who netted a tally of 19 points to bring his season total to 318 points, the Menlo-Atherton quintet had the time of their lives ramming the Rams deep into obscurity for the evening.

The Bears quickly jumped into the lead by ringing up a 21 to 10 lead by the end of the first quarter, and by half-time had added another 18 points to their side of the scoreboard to lead 39 to 25. Ralls and Fred Pegelow, who took top scoring honors with 23 points, continued to rack up the baskets until the second team was put into bring the number of M-A players into the game to 10.

The Rams looked tired and worn as the game grew longer and longer—for them—and the performance became more and more of a fiasco. It wasn't much of a spectators game except for those who like to see high scores. The teams were so obviously in different classes that the contest appeared a poor excuse for a league match.

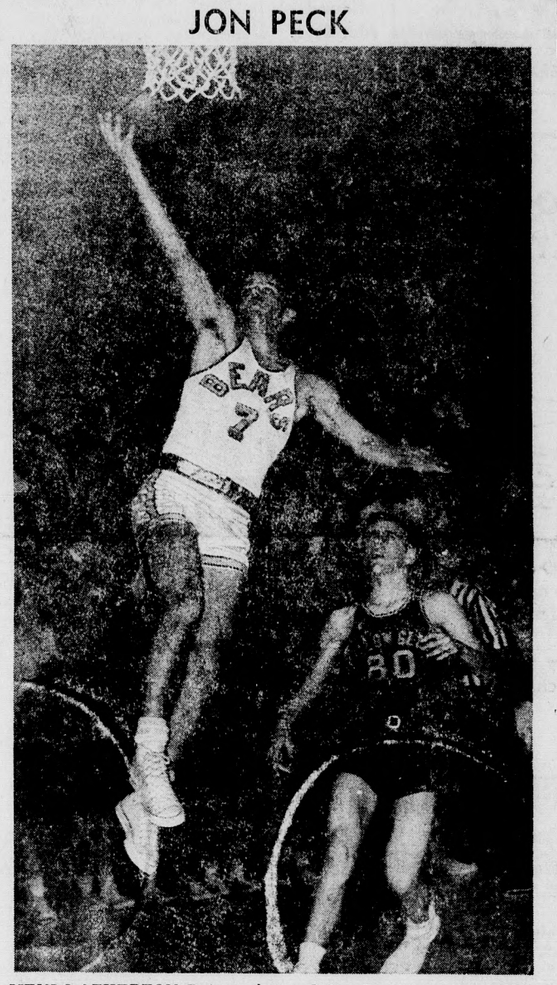

Last Tuesday the varsity dropped a game to Lincoln, 66 to 55, to take themselves out of the running for the SPAL title. Lacking any adequate defense, the Bears were able to narrow Lincoln's lead to eight points shortly before the end of the game, but couldn't turn the tide.

M-A lost the services of Dave McDowell in the second quarter when he fouled out, which may have been one of the reasons the Bears didn't come out on top. Then in the fourth quarter Roosevelt Jones fouled out also, to set the Bears back another pace.

Lincoln went from an 11 to 9 lead to 16 to 11 at the end of the first quarter, but M-A rebounded in the second to lead by about 18 points at half time. Then Lincoln went ahead to stay, keeping the Bears on the spot.

Another reason for Lincoln's success was their accurate shooting from the foul line, an accuracy which Menlo-Atherton didn't share. M-A fouled to excess, and many of them unnecessary fouls. Trying too hard to play a tight defense, the Bears made bad mistakes and then committed fouls trying to make up for the mistakes.

JON PECK

MENLO-ATHERTON B team forward Jon Peck puts the ball in the basket for two points in last Friday's game against Willow Glen which the B's won 54 to 29. Peck had snatched the ball during Willow Glen offensive play and sped to the opposite end of the court to score for the Cubs. A disillusioned and bewildered Willow Glen player stands behind Peck as he goes up for the shot too late to prevent the score.

B's Take Two

Menlo-Atherton's B basketball squad won two contests last week to shoot themselves into the first place spot in the South Peninsula.

The B's racked up their highest score of the season last Friday evening at the M-A gym to down the lightweight Rams 54 to 29 in a preview of the varsity contest which the Bears went on to win.

The win, which continued the B's first place tie with Sequoia, saw seven of the Cubs perform in the game which was a stunning combination of coordination between defensive and offensive play with obviously the best results the B's have had to date.

M-A's five was led off by Cliff Davis who racked up a mighty big 20 points and followed by Dom Ascani with five field goals and two successful foul shots for a total of 12 points.

Fans were on their feet several times to watch the B's break away after taking the ball from Willow Glen. The lightweights showed exceptional agility in these thrusts which gave them an unopposed shot at the basket and helped to rack up an unimagined score.

DOWNED LINCOLN

Meeting the Lincoln lightweights last Tuesday afternoon, the M-A B's chalked up a neat 43 to 36 score against them to give themselves undisputed claim to the first place spot in the SPAL. Sequoia lost one the same afternoon, breaking the tie.

Lincoln jumped out in front early in the first quarter with six field goals and three free throws to leave the Cubs behind at the end of the first quarter 17 to 12 and then proceeded to fall behind further in the second quarter to end the half on the bad end of a 29 to 17 score.

In the second half, Coach Bill Loftus shifted his men players fro ma zone defense to a cull court press which baffled the foes sufficiently to restrict Lincoln to only seven points in the second half.

High scorer for the B's was Jon Peck with 17 points, followed closely by Dom Ascani with 12 points.

Something New! No Overtime in Exhibition Bout

For a change, the Trojan Rubber Co.-French's Eating Club exhibition basketball game last Sunday night did not go down to the last seconds or into overtime before the winner was decided.

After seven straight nip-and-tuckers which were decided by a total of 18 points, the Trojans won Sunday, 92-84, the largest margin of victory in the series to date. Trojan leads in wins, 4-3.

The contest was still in doubt with 70 second to play, however, but the Trojans increased a shaky lead from four to six and then eight points to salt away the win.

ONE RESPONSIBLE

One man—aggressive Pat Melvin—was most responsible for the Trojan triumph. Melvin broke his own series scoring record of 34 points with a 42-point rampage. But where he had scored mostly on long shots in his previous high-scoring performance, this time the ace Trojan got into the hole for most of his points.

Cliff Davisinskovich led French's scoring with 24 and was a standout on defense. Mike Lewis also played a fine floor game for the losers and scored 22 points, as did Ed Crane, the game's most effective rebounder after Melvin. Jim Cabaniss hit 16 for French's.

Following Melvin in Trojan scoring were Jim Sherman, 16, Dennis Anderson, 14, and Harry Wilkins, 12.

Local Guy and Gal Yo-Yo Champs Head for San Jose Regional Contest

Spinning perfect scores on seven of 10 tricks, George Rose 13, of Belle Haven School, won the annual Menlo Park Recreation department Yo-Yo contest boys' division Saturday at Burgess Park Little Theater.

Diane Lange, 10, of Flood School was the uncontested girls' winner.

Both city champions are eligible to compete in the State Regional Contest at Lowell School Auditorium in San Jose next Saturday.

Rose successfully twirled all but three of the tricks in the contest on the first try. Ten points were awarded for performing the trick on the first attempt, five for the second attempt, and zero if both tries failed. Rose's total score was 85 points.

Ronnie Pratt, 12, of Encinal School, was second with 70 points; Pat Crawford, 11, of Willow School, third with 60; and George Morris, 11, of Fremont, fourth with 25.

Miss Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lange, 267 Hedge road, Menlo Park, scored 30 points with three perfect twirls in winning the girls' division.

Pratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pratt, 375 Felton drive, Menlo Park, had six first-try scores. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Crawford, 504 O'Keefe, Menlo Park, also had six and Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Morris, 845 Harvard, Menlo Park, had two.

The two champions received desk pen trophies from Marilyn Field of the Menlo Park Recreation department, who judged the contest, and the boys' runner-up won a jumbo Yo-Yo. All the finalists had previously won plaques for championships at their individual playgrounds.

The contest will be culminated with the State Championships at San Diego March 14 and 15.

YO-YO CHAMPS

WINNERS OF THE MENLO PARK Recreation Department Yo-Yo contest are shown above as they admire their trophies. George Rose and Diane Lange were the boy and girls winners respectively who first won their school championships, then a recreation park championship and finally the city championship. Next stop for these youngsters will be San Jose where they will participate in Bay area competition.

Sierra Club Sets Annual Snow Trip

The second annual snow-camp is set for this weekend, Feb. 22 and 23 by the Loma Prieta chapter of the Sierra club.

The trip will provide spectacular winter views of the High Sierra and provide an opportunity to learn the technique of camping out in winter woods. Snowshoes or skis are required and equipment must be checked by the leader prior to departure.

For further information, contact leader George S. Craig at AM 2-2747.

MAN RIDGE HIKE

For Sunday, other members of the club have scheduled a round trip hike of about eight miles from the Livermore-Mt. Hamilton road to the crest of Man Ridge. The group will follow the road along the crest of the ridge through the Beale property to the Ozier Ranch for lunch. Excellent views of the Devil's Hole and the deep canyon, Arroy Del Valle will be afforded from the summit. It is known as the most rugged section of the Livermore Hills.

Hikers should meet the leader at the flagpole in Livermore at 9 a.m. and drive about 22 miles to the Mt. Hamilton road and Pinter's club sign.

Leader for the trip is Bill Bancroft at D A3-7098.

STANFORD SETS TALK ON COSMIC RAYS

"The Strange Case of the Cosmic Rays," will be the title of a talk to be presented at Stanford University next Tuesday evening, Feb. 25.

Dr. Frank Baxter, professor of English at the University of Southern California, will be the speaker.

The program, part of the University's Tuesday evening series of lectures, will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

Garden Column:

Trees Increase Production, Property Value And Provide Insulation From Noise

As is customary at this time of year, Governor Goodwin J. Knight will soon proclaim "Plant a Tree Week."

With each passing year the significance of "Plant a Tree Week" becomes more important to the area. Long ago, naturalists realized the value of trees in holding top soil against the ravages of water and the subsequent prevention of property damage.

MUCH WORK AHEAD

Now, even with the present cooperation of commercial and governmental authorities at all levels, much still remains to be done to increase tree planting to prevent and repair damage to our natural resources and to the natural beauty of our state.

The value of trees has also reached into fields other than timber and resource conservation. Highway engineers use trees as sound insulation. Where freeways and highways pass through residential areas, trees planted on either side of the thoroughfare act to absorb street noises.

trees also tend to contain the dust and smoke which is indigenous to heavily traveled highways.

Home owners too, have been quick to recognize the values of trees. Trees uphold the value of property and when fully grown can even affect the temperatures around a home. New subdivisions are made much more appealing to buyers when shade or flowering trees line the streets and adorn the garden.

SHADE FOR BEAUTY

Industry, too has found that shade trees not only beautify unattractive buildings and areas but furnish a better environment for employees—a fact which has lessened employee turnover and even increased production. Also, where an industry is located close to a residential area, a barrier of beautiful high trees will often provide a screen sufficient to eliminate home-owner objections.

Consult your local nurseryman for the type of shade, fruit or flowering fruit tree which is best suited for your particular needs.

String Quartet Sets Concert

The Amadeus String Quartet, adjudged by music critics as one of the best in the world, comes to Stanford University for a concert Sunday, March 2.

They will perform in Dinkelspiel Auditorium at 4 p.m. under the auspices of the Department of Music. Tickets may be obtained at either the Dinkelspiel box office or Peninsula Box Office in Palo Alto.

The Amadeus group is from London, although only one, cellist Martin Lovett, is actually an Englishman. The other three are of Austrian descent.

They are Norbert Brainin and Siegmund Nissel, violinists, and Peter Schidlof, violist.

Cord oak trees, originally from the Mediterranean area, have been planted in California as ornamental trees since the 1850s.

POLO TEAM LOSES

Menlo Circus Club polo team played a round of games in Santa Barbara last week, losing a semi-final game to Concar of San Francisco in the Santa Barbara 10 goal tournament. Earlier the Circus club riders defeated Will Rogers club of Los Angeles, 12 to 4, with Billy Linfoot scoring six goals.

'CROSS FACE' STRUGGLE

DICK SMITH uses a "cross face" to tire a Willow Glen opponent in a recent match which Menlo-Atherton won 22 to 21. Although Smith lost this particular match, the Grizzlies by winning the bout put themselves in first place in the league with an undefeated record.

MINOR FIRE IN ATHERTON

Menlo Park Fire District firemen Tuesday at 6:59 a.m. were called to the D. Taggart home at 301 Walsh road, where accumulated natural gas in a furnace took fire. Minor damage to the furnace resulted.

CHINESE ART SHOWN AT STANFORD MUSEUM

One of the most significant collections of ancient Chinese art ever shown on the Pacific Coast opens at Stanford Museum Feb. 21.

The priceless display, on view through March 28, brings together bronzes, jades, pottery, and lacquer objects from all periods of the Chou Dynasty (12th to third century B.C.).

Art experts say the exhibit centralizes at one time and place the finest examples of the art of ancient China when she was emerging from a "barbaric to a civilized state, from an exclusively graphic symbolism to a narrative and descriptive style, from an art motivated and prescribed by religious ritual to an art of playful inventiveness and rhythmic grace."

Have New Equipment:

Menlo-Atherton Radio Club Able to Give Emergency Aid

The Menlo-Atherton Radio Club recently purchased a "new" second-hand communications receiver as a major part of plans to enlarge their radio station.

This acquisition, plus other equipment and the school's emergency generator, enable club members to transmit messages during any disaster situation in which local power is cut off.

Community laboratories and business firms have been aiding the club in securing new and second-hand parts for their equipment. A new small transmitter has been added within recent months. This will serve as the foundation of a larger transmitter system in the future.

Membership in the radio club numbers 25. Eight of these are licensed ham operators whose activities are watched with interest by several faculty ham operators including Nicholas Nugent, principal! Malvin Dolmatz, sponsor of the club; Edward Brown; and Ray Sommers. Dolmatz is holding code classes on Monday afternoons to help other members obtain ham licenses.

Since it is the custom for stations which have been in contact to exchange call letters, the radio club has ordered cards printed with the call letters of the school. So far, the club owes cards to ham operators in Los Angeles, Idaho, Montana, and various points about the Bay Area.

In addition to their regular Thursday afternoon meetings, a number of field trips are taken each year by members of the club. Next Friday, Feb. 14, members will visit a San Francisco radio station.

Art Instruction Of Social Use, Graduates Hear

Thee current American emphasis on arts and crafts "is not an apology for the use of unoccupied hours," Miss Irma Middup, Menlo Park elementary school's art consultant, said recently.

Speaking at a dinner in honor of graduating art education students at San Jose State College, Miss Middup said that "the creation of beautiful, usefui objects has been the natural pursuit of people through all time.

"The Industrial Revolution explosively turned men into nursemaids to machinery," she said, "and deprived them of the satisfaction of fine craftsmanship."

But the child of today who will be the industrialist of tomorrow will have many leisure hours, she said.

Learning now to work with materials in creative ways will bring him immense personal satisfaction.

Miss Middup, a graduate of the Art Institute and the University of Chicago who holds a Master of Education degree from UCLA, has been art consultant for the Menlo Park elementary schools since 1955.

LENTEN SERVICES SET

Lenten services will be held every Wednesday evening during Lent at Our Saviour's Lutheran church, 330 Donohoe street in East Palo Alto, at 8 p.m.

'Indian Guides' Units Forming

The Sequoia YMCA is forming new Y-Indian guide tribes in the Menlo Park area.

The Y-Indian Guides is a national father and son home centered club program sponsored by the YMCA in which fathers and sons six through eight participate together as Tribe members.

The program consists of Indian lore, handicraft, nature study, story telling, hikes, games, discussions, swimming and camping. No boy may join without his father.

Persons interested in a program of his kind are invited to call Mr. Cox at the Sequoia YMCA, EM 8-4168.

Because of their special chemical structure, wool fibers can be dyed a wide variety of colors.

Local Art Shown At Menlo Library

A collection of seven paintings —three water colors and four oils —by Miss Sidney Williams of Atherton is currently on display at the Menlo Park library in the civic center.

The paintings, according to Librarian Philip Morales, will remain on display for the next several weeks.

Miss Williams has been an art student for many years. She studied for two years at the California School of Fine Arts

For many years a member of the Palo Alto Art club, she has studied there under Raymond Brose and Professor Dan Mendelowitz. She is currently directing her interests toward water color landscapes under the tutelage of Ralph Ledesma.

She was director of the "life" painting class of the art club for six years but is presently concentrating on water color landscapes.

Redwood City Reception:

Carolyn Bowles Is Wed Sunday

MR. AND MRS. JAMES FREDERICK KELLOGG

In Palo Alto's First Congregational Church last Sunday, February 16, Carolyn Frances Bowles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrington E. Bowles of Menlo Park, became the bride of James Frederic Kellogg. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic H. Kellogg of San Mateo.

Mr. Bowles escorted his daughter, who was attired in a gown of Italian silk taffeta, fashioned with a scoop neckline embellished with lace and seed pearls. The gown, in a parchment shade, was styled in a princess style with the skirt featuring a bustle back and a chapel length train.

Her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a matching satin band embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and stephanotis.

HONOR ATTENDANT

Mrs. Allen Perry, the former Sue Clark of Menlo Park, was matron of honor. Gemma Hogan and Deanna Deauville, both of Menlo Park, were bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical bouffant dresses of pink silk. The ballerina dresses featured sweetheart necklines.

The attendants wore veiling attached to orchid bands, and carried cascades of variegated stocks in orchid shades.

Richard Goebble of San Mateo was best man. Serving as ushers were Frank Weltz and Harry Marx Jr.

Mrs. Bowles chose a silk sheath in varied shades of blue, and wore matching accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Kellogg, wore a beige crepe dress and complimented her ensemble with cocoa accessories.

A reception was held at the Redwood City Woman's Club at which approximately 200 guests toasted the young couple.

Carolyn chose a silk shantung sheath in beige, with brown accessories, as her going away outfit.

After a honey moon in Southern California, the young couple will reside in San Carlos.

Special out-of-town guests included the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Eugene Bowles of Alameda.

Carolyn is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and attended the College of San Mateo. She is the sister of Michael and Timothy Bowles.

James graduated from San Mateo High School and also attended the College of San Mateo, and San Jose State College. He was in the army in Panama for two years.

Isenberg-Durham:

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Isenberg of Portola Valley have announced the engagement of their daughter, Roxanna Patricia, to Richard Sugden Durham of Corpus Christi, Texas.

Roxanna has two sisters, Renny Isenberg and Mrs. T. A. Hovig of Palo Alto. Her grandparents are Mrs. H. Alexander Isenberg and the late Mr. Isenberg, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jeffery.

Roxanna is a graduate of Castilleja School for Girls, and she also attended Garland College in Boston, Mass. She is currently employed by Joseph Magnin in Palo Alto.

Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Arthur Durham and is the brother of E. A. Durham of Dallas, Texas and the late George B. Durham.

His grandparents are the late Sir Bernard and Lady Sugden of Yorkshire, England, and the late Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Durham of Garden City, Long Island, New York.

Richard is a graduate of the Taft School, a college preparatory school in Watertown, Conn., and is now serving with the army at Fort Mason, Calif.

The young couple have set their wedding date for May of 1959.

Swedish Theme Is Highlight of Luncheon

A Swedish smorgasbord luncheon was given February 12 by Mrs. Everett Carlson of Atherton.

Mrs. Carlson greeted guests in an authentic Swedish dress.

The luncheon table was decorated with a hand-made cloth from Sweden and the centerpiece was of gaily dressed dancing figurines in Swedish costumes.

Mrs. Carlson toured Europe last summer and displayed many of her foreign purchases to her guests at the luncheon.

Among those invited were Mrs. Robert Anthony, Mrs. George Berendes, Mrs. Howard Davis, Mrs. David Diegelman, Elizabeth Grisak, Mrs. William Kratt, Mrs. Moberg and Doris Moberg, and Mrs. R. Reynolds, all of Menlo Park.

During the afternoon, Doris Moberg entertained on the organ and piano.

CHS Auxiliary:

Founders Tea Set Today

The Palo Alto Auxiliary to the Childrens' Home Society will mark its 11th anniversary at a Founder's Day tea today at the Allied Arts Guild.

Chairman of the tea is Mrs. J. W. Phillips of Menlo Park assisted by Mrs. Phillip H. Heuer Jr., Mrs. Terrell D. Shores, Mrs. Donald Harmon and Mrs. Herbert L. Lyell of Palo Alto.

Mrs. Frances Hickey, director of the Northern California auxiliaries, will speak at the tea on "Plans for the New Building," as well as show blueprints of the new Northern California headquarters to be constructed at 3128 Telegraph avenue, Oakland, as a result of a bequest by Robert C. Hillen.

Greeting the guests in addition to Mrs. Hickey will be auxiliary members Mrs. Don T. Hibner, Mrs. John O. Youngs and Mrs. Terrell Shores. Mrs. Edward Jenanyan of Atherton, president of the Coast Counties Council of the Children's Home Society, and Mrs. Edsel Brown of Sunnyvale, president of the Central Counties Council, will pour at the tea, assisted by two former presidents of the Palo Alto Auxiliary, Mrs. Virgil Haugse and Mrs. George Moore.

The Children's Home Society is a privately supported adoption agency serving the state of California where it is a Red Feather agency in some areas supported by Community Chest Funds. It has placed over 18,000 children since its founding 65 years ago.

FOUNDING

The idea for the formation of the Palo Alto Auxiliary came from Mrs. E. H. Brainerd, formerly of Berkeley and now of Menlo Park. In 1947 after a group visited the Oakland headquarters of the Children's Home Society, a tea was given for all interested persons. Mrs. Brainerd Neustadter of Atherton is one of the four founding members.

The Palo Alto Auxiliary was chartered on March 28, 1957, and was the first to be organized on the Peninsula where there are now several others including the Menlo-Atherton, Sequoia, and Woodside Auxiliaries.

Menlo Mothers Club:

Douglass Family To Be Honored at Show

The Mothers 'Club of Menlo School will present its eighth annual fashion show Friday, March 14, in the school Commons at 2:30 p.m. The show is in commemoration of the generosity of the Leon F. Douglass family and the scientific distinction of Mr. Douglass' inventions.

Accordingly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass, Mrs. Douglass Langdon of Menlo Park, has accepted the honorary chairmanship of the fashion show.

INVENTOR

Mr. Douglass was the inventor of the disc-type phonograph record now so widely in use. His invention replaced the old cylinder wax disc and his trade mark "His Master's Voice" became probably the best known in the world. His Victor Talking Machine Company was name for his wife, Victoria Douglass.

The success of "His Master's Voice" established the fortune from which Menlo School so greatly benefitted. Leon Douglass, over the years, produced many important inventions, the most valuable, in his estimation, being what is now known as Technicolor.

Menlo School acquired the house and grounds of Victoria Manor, also named for Mrs. Douglass, in 1945 through the generosity of the heirs of Mr. Douglass. The great 56-room mansion, now called Douglass Hall, is the central building of the school. The surrounding school campus now approximates 25 acres.

The Mothers' Club of Menlo School was established in 1947. All mothers of enrolled students in the school are invited to become members. The club assists the school through various forms of active interest, including gifts for scholarships, for the library and for administrative purposes.

Menlo School is a college preparatory school for boys, beginning with the seventh grade and continuing through the twelfth grade.

Colorful Tunes:

Los Frolicos Dance Club Stages Party

"Rainbow Melodies" was the theme of last Saturday's dancing party for members of Los Frolicos dance club with each of the dinner tables decorated to represent a song.

Among those attending the party were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Collins . . . with Mr. Collins acting as president in the absence of Harold Gore who with Mrs. Gore and the Dick Drurys were on a weekend trip in Carmel.

Among guests introduced by Mr. Collins were Lorraine and Marlin Wilbur and Betty and Joe Whelan of Atherton . . . Bonnie and Bill Nelson, Shirlene and Phil Gundy, Dorothy and Ed Corney, Pat and Jim Collins and Barbara and Roy Burch, all of Menlo Park . . . and Arline and Gil Lewis and Laurette and Harry Horner, of Redwood City.

Chairmen for the evening were Tom and Barbara Eldridge assisted by Eva and Ivor Larson, all of Menlo Park, Emily and Bob Carpenter of Woodside, and Jean and Bob Rockwell of Los Atlos Hills, formerly of Menlo Park.

Another bargain at Clifford's is a combination package which includes a liquid cream deodorant and also a container of body powder . . . in Houbigant Chantilly . . . a lovely feminine fragrance. Formerly $1.50, this two-in-one package is now $1.

Going to give a party and want some ideas on entertaining? A series of booklets is available at Searle's which will help you plan all kinds of games for bridal showers, baby showers, and in general, "ice breaker" games to help get all of your guests acquainted and to start the party off to a good beginning. Each booklet is priced at only 69 cents. Other small items we noted at Searle's (either for yourself or as a gift) was the cute little poodle made of wire and ready to hold mail, notes, etc., in black with a pink nose and paws . . . and priced at $2.25. Wonderful for the kitchen or the den and especially right next to the telephone, is the Rememo with attached pencil. It holds a continuous role of note paper which is easy to tear off. The Rememo is priced at $3.25 and is available in red or white . . . and ready for all of those many notes.

GOOD BAKING

. . . that demands a flair—an ability to create baked goods with extra special goodness.

DOBUSH CAKES
8 layers of light delicate white cake with milk chocolate filling and chocolate fondant icing.

ASSORTED PASTRIES
Eclairs, cream puffs, Napoleans, cream horns, shoe soles and many more . . . all differently delicious.
